

SUPERHEROES LAUNCH VISION 2030

On October 3 Ikamvanites from all over South Africa and our extended IkamvaYouth family gathered in Cape Town to mark ten years of impact on education in South Africa.

There was plenty to celebrate. By the end of 2012 we'd supported 3 000 learners through high school and 94% of our 2012 matriculants passed – 90% qualifying to study for degrees or diplomas, and 96% accessing post-school placements. With new branches in the Eastern Cape and North West province we're now working in five provinces.

Minister in the Presidency Trevor Manuel was guest speaker at the milestone event. A fitting choice as we also launched Vision 2030 which aligns IkamvaYouth firmly with the National Development Plan for 2030.

Minister Manuel described IkamvaYouth's development as "a decade of fighting for change, of growing a movement". "You are the change, the model that works ... (and) must be taken forward," he said.

VISION 2030

ALL who begin Grade 1 in 2018 will pass matric or the equivalent.

ALL who matriculate in 2030 will access post school opportunities.

ALL young people, with IY support will earn a dignified living after accessing learning opportunities.

To achieve this, we plan to partner with those who share our vision.

SCALING UP

Shoutout to all who are committed to education in SA.

IkamvaYouth is scaling up and we're looking for community partners in the Western Cape.

We're looking for the movers and shakers, individuals and organisations who are passionate about youth education programmes, says Zoe Mann, community collaboration coordinator.

Please help us spread the word to all who might be suitable to implement our Vision 2030 and share our impact.

Find out more about our plans at this blog post.

For more information you can email Zoe at zoe@ikamvayouth.org. Or you can call her on +27 74 476 7965.

IKAMVAYOUTH EXPLAINED

Watch our updated IkamvaYouth explainer and read about it here. Funeka's Story answer's Trevor Manuel's Story of Thandi, with a solution to the education crisis.

ANNUAL REPORT 2012

If you haven't already managed to get a hard copy of our gorgeous 2012 Annual Report, you can download your electronic copy from our website, here.